Book: Praying Mantis by Megan Borgert-Spaniol (595.727 BOR)

Reviewed by Sadie Hemstead (1st grade)

This non-fiction book tells us about praying mantises. The whole book is filled with really cool facts. The photographs are amazing. Look very closely at the picture of the praying mantis fighting a grasshopper! I highly recommend this book!

Book: My Own Special Way by Mithaa AIK-hayyat (ER FRE)

Reviewed by Teeba Zebak (4th grade)

This is a really good book about a little girl who wants to wear a hijab. Do you know what a hijab is? A hijab is a headscarf that Muslim girls wear in public to cover their hair. When Hamda tries to wear the hijab the way her sisters do, it doesn't work. How will Hamda find her own special way of wearing the hijab? You will be as interested in the colorful pictures as the story. This is an amazing book and you should check it out!

Book: Henry and Leo by Pamela Zagarenski (E ZAG)

Reviewed by Jazira Kimba (3rd grade)

Have you ever thought a stuffed animal that you loved was real? In this book, Henry thinks that his stuffed lion is real, but everyone else doesn't think Leo is real. When Henry loses Leo, the pictures start to tell the story. Is it a story about Henry's dream or about a real stuffed animal? And why does Henry think he's real? You will love looking at the beautiful pictures. I recommend this book!
